

PRESERVATION MASSACHUSETTS

2011
PRESERVATION AWARDS
DINNER

OUR PRESERVATION EDUCATION

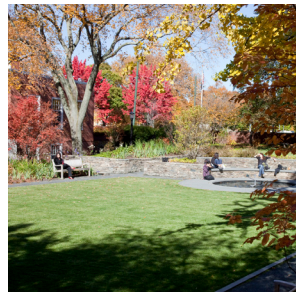

“I’M A PRESERVATIONIST, NOT BECAUSE I’M INTERESTED IN THE PAST, BUT IN HOW THINGS CAN BE IMPROVED FOR THE FUTURE.”

-ALBERT B. WOLF
ATTORNEY & PRESERVATIONIST

As Mr. Wolf so aptly describes, preservation is not just about the past, but the future. And there is no more fitting embodiment of our collective future than the many educational institutions that call Massachusetts home.

Preservation Massachusetts' 2011 Awards Dinner will recognize and honor colleges, universities and preparatory schools that have embraced and incorporated preservation into their educational identity. Whether through master planning, stewardship or sustainable restoration, the projects at these institutions demonstrate the versatility, viability and importance of historic preservation within higher education.

This year’s honorees will receive the Paul E. Tsongas Award. This award, named in honor of the late senator, recognizes those who have played an extraordinary role in promoting the preservation of our Commonwealth’s past for the benefit of our future.
